

BREAD OF CREATION

KELLY ZHOU

As I listened to Leopold Page, I was struck by how he risked his life for several years to help others in the Krakow ghetto. He raced around armed only with his bike and his courage, bringing bread and advice to people. I realized his greatest achievement was creating futures for people who would have died without the sustenance he brought or the advice he gave. Thus, I depict an older Leopold Page contemplating one of his journeys delivering bread and hope to a mother and her three children.
